

Paperbacks & Pieces EVENT

TUESDAY, JULY 19TH, 7 P.M.

Author Bonnie McCune, who lives in Colorado, will be leading a lively discussion about writing from the female perspective.

Falling Like a Rock is her newest book.

Author to speak at Paperbacks and Pieces

Paperbacks and Pieces will host fiction writer B.F. McCune at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, July 19, at the bookstore.

B.F. (Bonnie) will lead a lively discussion about writing from the female perspective, themes addressed by women in their work, and the feminine trek through publishing.

McCune lives in Colorado with a regular assortment of relatives. Her entire family is "book mad." Her books include "Falling Like a Rock" (2014), "Heart-Strong" (2013), "Irish Episode" (2012), and "A Saint Comes Stumbling In" (2012), all of which have received rave reviews. She's collected awards for her short fiction. For more information and her blog, visit www.BonnieMcCune.com.

The event is free and open to the public.
